I sensed a large circular area with a large object that could encompass a very large area.

I sensed structures around the object. The structures were very low to the ground. They were square but not tall structures.

I sensed men sitting close together but working in different projects. I sensed men sitting ~~diagonally~~ diagonally. There were boxes in front of them used for tuning and turning. I sensed that these men were brought here to work. They this was not their homeland and so they are neighbors. I sensed a room with wooden floors that were neat & clean and on the sides I sensed shelves with boxes on them.

I sensed that this large object was associated with the men. I kept receiving that this was a type model called an array. I sensed waves coming out of the large object and signals.

I then sensed another area all together different. I could see a man in a uniform wearing green & black. He was in an area near water and there was a star fence. He was in the place where the base was located.

I could sense vehicle traffic.

I could see what they were square vehicle that opened & closed at the roller.

I sensed that when the large object was rather isolated and it was picked because of the air.

By the large object, I felt it was heat producing and that the case was right. This object has a swinging effect.
